

Jack Wise - Region 3 AOD Director

Jack Wise has over 30 years in the acquisition career field and is currently the Director of Acquisition Operations for the General Services Administration's Federal Acquisition Service. Jack is a career 1102 (contracting specialist/contracting officer) having spent time in both the Department of Defense and GSA acquisition organizations.

Prior to joining the GSA team in 1991, Jack started his government career as a procurement agent in 1985 with the Defense Logistics Agency. In 1987, Jack accepted a contract specialist position with the Naval Regional Contracting Center in Philadelphia where he was part of the Navy Field Contracting Activity's Automatic Data Processing (ADP) Center of expertise.

Mr. Wise has held a number of key leadership positions within the GSA Mid-Atlantic Region, never straying too far from his acquisition roots. Jack has advised, guided and lead numerous acquisition teams in their support of customers such as the Public Buildings Service, Department of Defense, Department of Homeland Security, IRS and other Civilian sectors of Government.

Mr. Wise is a founding member of the Mid-Atlantic Region's Acquisition Council (MAAC) that was launched in February 2015. Jack is a 1983 graduate of Rutgers University with a B. A. in Business Administration.

Jack's interests have always been in promoting continuous learning and developing others within the acquisition workforce. He is a steadfast leader of his contracting organization's journey to innovate the acquisition process through streamlining initiatives being created to improve the efficiency and quality of awards under GSA's multiple award programs. These efforts have led to increased participation from the small business community seeking to do business with the GSA and the agencies that GSA supports.
